Call for Papers

I am please to invite you to collaborate with a new issue of the Journal of Economics Finance and Administrative Studies, sponsored by Universidad ESAN, Lima, Perú.

The Journal of Economics Finance and Administrative Studies aims to provide the most relevant research and current developments in all the fields of the administrative sciences from around the world.

The scope of the Journal of Economics Finance and Administrative Studies is broad. It includes applied research in the following areas: Economics, Finance, Accounting, Management, Strategy, Leadership, Organization Behaviour, Operations & Logistics, Decision Sciences & Information Technology and Marketing that may be of interest to both executives and academics.

This journal, presented twice a year in its printed and free on-line versions, makes international research available to the public to encourage research and to disseminate knowledge about decision making in all the areas of management.

Articles published at the Journal of Economics Finance and Administrative Studies undergo a double blind peer review. Shortly, the journal will be abstracted/indexed in the best databases of journals including CIELO, ISI and ECONLIT, and open access repositories such as SSRN, therefore providing the maximum exposure to the articles.

All paper should make clear their contribution to advancing theory and/or practice in the administrative sciences. Since its strong international editorial board emphasizes publishing quality articles rapidly, electronic submissions are encouraged. All correspondence should be send to jguillen@esan.edu.pe.

With king regards,

Jorge Guillén
